Beyond the Crumbs: Your Guide to the Feast of Success

The E-Book that Can Change Your Life

- Tired of missing out on the feast of life?
- Tired of being promised golden nuggets and instead getting crumbs?
- Want to know what true success would be for YOU?
- Want to know how you can have the time and money needed to make your dreams possible?

If your answer is YES to each of the above questions, then read every word in this short book and watch your wishes come true!

Success is Freedom!

We hear a lot of talk about Success. It is a little golden word that brings to mind sports cars and beaches and $100 bills floating down from heaven.

Although all those things may be a part of success, I don't think they are necessarily a part of each person's success. In fact, I would suggest that true success is simply the attainment of your unique dreams.

I, for instance, am interested in spending my life traveling the world. I don't want to be bogged down with a sports car! All I need is a plane ticket and taxi fare.

In the final analysis, success for anyone is being able to achieve their dreams. Money plays its part because usually we need the money to finance our dream lifestyle.

Beyond the Crumbs: Your Guide to the Feast of Success

Time also plays an important part in making dreams come true. I, for instance, cannot spend my life traveling the world if I am stuck behind a desk all my life at an office trying to put in my 40 hours each week so I can scrape by for another month.

So, here is the formula for success:

Time Freedom + Money Freedom = Freedom to Pursue Dreams → Attainment of Dreams = Success

In this short book, I will guide you in understanding what your personal dreams are and show you how to have the time and money that you need to pursue those dreams.

I can truly claim to be sharing information that will absolutely transform your life if only you will let it. Don't let your busy life stand between you and the freedom you secretly wish for!

If your life is busy right now and you aren't spending most of your time living out your dream lifestyle, then that is all the more reason to take some time out to read this short e-book! Make time for this book and you will have time for all your dreams that have been put on hold up until now!

Beyond the Crumbs: Your Guide to the Feast of Success

My Dreams

My dreams are my motivation for living. They are what make me tick.

There is nothing I love talking about more than my dreams. I hope you will allow me to briefly share my top three dreams with you:

- 1) I find deep satisfaction in helping others improve their lives and my dream is to see many thousands of people's lives transformed on both a physical and spiritual level. This e-book is one extension of that personal mission.
- 2) I love visiting foreign places, meeting new people and learning from others. I would like to spend the better part of my life traveling and exploring the world and the world's many people groups.
- 3) Of all the people in the world, there is no one I love more than my wife Lisa. I want to live a long, happy life with her by my side the whole time.

Do you know your dreams? Can you list your top three dreams like I have just done? True success is simply being able to live out your dreams.

When we talk about success, we usually think about money and three-piece suits. That is only a half-truth. Money is not success. Many wealthy people would tell you that money does not necessarily equal success.

Beyond the Crumbs: Your Guide to the Feast of Success

Money is a vehicle that can often help you achieve your goals. The achievement of your goals is true success.

One problem is that many of us are so busy trying to make the money we need to achieve our goals that we do not have time left over to live our dream life.

Time is therefore another key vehicle to achieving success.

And the sad part of it is that these people who are spending their time making money to live out their dreams are only making enough to meet the bill payments for the month (and some cannot even do that!). So their dreams remain on hold. Their whole life is stuck in a holding pattern as they spend their lives surviving month to month and paycheck to paycheck.

Success is getting beyond survival mode. Success is being able to really LIVE!

The trick then is finding a way to make a large amount of money (enough money to have lots left over after the bills are paid) WITHOUT spending a large amount of time on the pursuit of that money so that we can still have time to pursue our dreams.

Before I show you how to have more time and money, you first need to have a clear idea of what you will do with that extra time and money.

Beyond the Crumbs: Your Guide to the Feast of Success

Only with a clear vision of what success means to you will you be able to pursue that goal of success.

Searching the Dream Keeper

In this e-book lies the answer to the burning question we all face:

How can I live out my dream lifestyle?

We all have dreams in our hearts. Some of our dreams lie buried deep under the rubble of life experiences gone awry. Other dreams continue to cling to our hearts like that last leaf clinging to the branch in the winter refusing to be blown away by life's troubles and distractions.

Now, let your mind sweep through the depths of your heart. Let go of fear of failure for just five minutes to remember – or see for the first time – your heart's true desire.

Close your eyes and imagine what sort of life you would like to live if you had all the money and time in the world.

Can you picture it? That is your heart's true desire. Now, before you forget, write it down.

Beyond the Crumbs: Your Guide to the Feast of Success

Write your top three dreams / life-goals down.

If this book were a genie what would be your three wishes? Be careful. Don't wish for more money and time so you can get "this," "this," and "that." The time and money are only a means to an end. When you write down your three wishes make sure that those wishes are the "this," "this," and "that" you would pursue if you already had all the money and time in the world!

This is important. If living a fulfilled life is important to you, then you will NOT want to read on without taking the two to five minutes it will take to write down your three wishes / dreams.

Grab a pen and write on a paper or in a Word document your three wishes:

Wish / Dream #1:

Wish / Dream #2:

Wish / Dream #3:

Beyond the Crumbs: Your Guide to the Feast of Success

Remember, as much money and time as is required to make your wishes come true is already granted. Focus on what you would do with that time and money.

Once you have your wishes written down, post them on your bathroom mirror or some other place where you can be constantly reminded of your goals in life.

Now that you have written out your three wishes, I invite you to carry that exercise one step further:

Go to your corner pharmacy or some other place and get a stack of magazines. Cut out pictures that represent your wishes come true. Photographs of your personal vacations taken or family members or other photos representative of your life dreams and ambitions also work very well. Paste or tape the pictures on a large sheet of paper. Post that sheet of paper where you will see it daily – I recommend your bathroom mirror.

There is an important reason you are doing this: Your mind speaks in pictures – not words! A picture to your mind is worth a thousand words. The only way your mind can understand a word to begin with is by forming a picture to go with it. You can create a shortcut to success by creating the pictures for your mind and letting your mind focus on those pictures.

Beyond the Crumbs: Your Guide to the Feast of Success

As your conscious mind focuses on those pictures, your subconscious mind will go to work to bring your dreams into reality for you. This subconscious mind-work will eventually surface into your life as a brilliant set of ingenious ideas, a fortunate turn of events, a happy discovery, deeper passion and more focus, and various other manifestations of your heart's desires crystallizing into the tangible reality in which you live from day to day.

Breadcrumbs

Now, as I have said, my dream is to travel the world, be with my wife, and to help people. My wife and I have for most of our marriage together (three years as of the writing of this e-book) dreamed of teaching English overseas – especially in the orient. We knew that teaching English for universities overseas would provide us with the income we needed to live within the framework of the host economy. At the same time, we would be helping people and have lots of time to be with one another. In essence teaching English in Asia would provide an opportunity for all of our dreams to come true.

There was just one problem glaring at us: We would be able to afford our foreign expenses but what about the expenses from the United States. We could not afford to get rid of our health insurance plans due to our personal medical conditions and there would undoubtedly be other bills from the US that we would be responsible for paying. The foreign currency we expected to be getting paid would not go far towards paying US expenses!

Beyond the Crumbs: Your Guide to the Feast of Success

The solution seemed to be to create a source of income that would pay us in US dollars. The trick would be finding a way of making money from anywhere in the world with minimum time input. In other words, I needed a way to have extra money and time to pursue my dreams and that money and time had to be manageable from anywhere in the world.

The solution seemed to be to set up an income stream that was from the World Wide Web. It would have to be a business that did not require shipping anything and that I could manage in my spare time.

In the summer of 2006, I decided that the best internet business would be writing and selling an e-book. The great thing about e-books is that they are deliverable online so no shipping is required and they can be delivered automatically immediately after the buyer's credit card is automatically processed. The goal would be to have an automatic cash-making business that could be operated from anywhere in the world.

Ironically, I began the process of starting my e-book business by buying an e-Book on how to write e-Books. The e-Book was called "How to Write an E-book in 7 days"

Beyond the Crumbs: Your Guide to the Feast of Success

I co-authored an e-Book based on my wife's and my success in planning our dream wedding for less than $2,000 called "Wedding Planning on a Budget."

Once I had written my e-book, I discovered that I would have to buy another ebook to learn how to market my e-book. Then I learned that I needed to create a blog so I bought an e-book to learn how to set up a blog.

I was on a number of mailing lists always offering me just one more breadcrumb secret to becoming successful online – for a hefty price! It became apparent that the big business in the e-book industry comes directly from new or struggling e-book writers.

All the big money was being made by the e-book writers who were sharing the secrets to the e-book industry – one breadcrumb at a time of course!

This ridiculous and discouraging process of buying e-books instead of selling ebooks eventually led me to put together a website that teaches how to write, publish, and market e-books as a helpful, FREE tool so that no one has to get stuck in the pattern I had found myself in. That website is

www.CashCowClinic.com

Beyond the Crumbs: Your Guide to the Feast of Success

As of the writing of this e-book, our Wedding Planning on a Budget e-book is bringing in about $300 a month. That extra income will definitely be a big help to us as we live out our dream lifestyle overseas.

The Feast

Once I was in the world of online business, I learned that there are hundreds of thousands of ways to make money online. Some are easy, some are not. Some are honest, some are not. Some are powerful, some are not.

I began studying various opportunities to make money online to see if I could add to my online cash flow.

Since I was not interested in selling another e-book at that time (winter of 2007), I was attracted to the concept of getting paid for referring customers to someone else's product. This is known as being an "affiliate" and the idea is that individuals can use their creativity and resources to draw others to a company's website. If anyone of those people visiting the company's website as a result of the affiliate's efforts makes a purchase, the affiliate is paid a commission on that sale.

The beauty of it is that with tools available like Google's AdWords, the affiliate need not spend much time, need not have their own website, and can reap a large extra source of income.

Beyond the Crumbs: Your Guide to the Feast of Success

There are as many types of affiliate programs out there as there are companies so I had to do some research to figure out what kind of company(s) I should be an affiliate with.

First of all, I did not want to get involved in an Amway-style network marketing company. Although that is a legitimate business style, I wanted to get credit for my creativity without having to rely primarily upon the hope of building a large organization of effective marketers (which does not usually work out). Bottom line is that other people tend to be unreliable; so I wanted to put my efforts into building something that wouldn't fall apart simply because "my people" stopped working – or never really got started.

At the same time, I thought it would be nice if I could get some credit for introducing other affiliate marketers to the opportunity to promote the product.

Speaking of the product, it was paramount to me that the product be very high quality and worth every penny paid for it.

At the same time, I did not want to be stuck trying to sell the product to a whole bunch of potential customers. I needed my time to be devoted to my dream – not attempting to close sales. So, whatever company I worked for would have to sell the product for me and would have to do a good job selling it so I would get paid for a lot of sales from the potential customers I would be sending their way.

It was also important to me that the company provide excellent support for all of its affiliates. I was new to affiliate marketing and would need lots of helpful tools and instruction to learn how to effectively promote their webpage / product.

My final requirement was that I be paid an attractive commission on the product. I had seen lots of products that paid a commission ranging anywhere from 10-75% on products with price ranges of $5 - $1,500. I wanted each sale to count where it matters – in my bank account!

What I eventually found met all my requirements while also covering things I hadn't even thought of.

Today, as I write this, I am well on my way to achieving all my dreams and living the life of success I had always hoped for. This summer, my wife and I plan to leave for our first teaching assignment together in Asia. We ended up finding an Asian country that pays a currency that will convert well into US dollars so I cannot say that our dream is totally reliant upon the affiliate program we found. But at the same time, it is always helpful to have some extra money coming in with little extra time being put out. Between our e-book and the affiliate program, we expect to be able to live out our dreams in style!

Beyond the Crumbs: Your Guide to the Feast of Success

If you are interested in making money just for helping people find the quality products they were already looking for and need, then you should consider becoming an affiliate. There are affiliate programs as diverse as the products and companies out there. You can learn about the affiliate program I have chosen to work with at the company's affiliate program introduction page.

Get Paid $500 for Sharing this Book!

Let me tell you why this e-book is being given away for free.

It comes down to the realization of one of the most powerful keys to success. As world-renowned personal development speaker and author Zig Zigler says: "If you help enough other people get what they want, you'll always get what you want."

You see, truly successful people do not keep the path to success a secret but share it with others to become even more successful.

I have designed this e-book with the principle of "give to receive" in mind.

You see, as I write this, I expect to make $500 on a regular basis just by giving this e-book away on my blog, MySpace, my website, and in other ways.

"$500 for giving something away free?!?" you ask. Yes, that's right!

Beyond the Crumbs: Your Guide to the Feast of Success

Let me explain. When readers learn that I have found an effective way to make extra money while investing only a little time each week, the readers naturally check it out for themselves. When they check it out and see the big picture and how they can make their dreams come true, they naturally want to sign up to become affiliates too. The readers quickly realize that the product being sold by the company is an amazing set of marketing tools that can help them become super effective and profitable affiliate marketers. In the end, the company gets another affiliate promoting their product, the reader gets a great chance to make a lot of money without spending a lot of time (they are working smart; not hard), and I get $500 for referring them.

“Okay,” you are thinking, “now I understand how you plan to make lots of money with this e-book but didn’t you say I could make money by giving your e-book away? Wouldn’t that just give you more money instead of me?”

Well, you are right. If you give this e-book away right now “as is”, it won’t make you anything while I or the person who gave this e-book to you will be making another possible $500 thanks to you making it available.

But this is what you do: Follow the instructions I am about to give you. By following the instructions, you will get a unique “branded” version of this e-book that will make you $500 every time someone joins the affiliate program.

Beyond the Crumbs: Your Guide to the Feast of Success

“Okay, so what’s in it for you? I mean, why do you want to help me make $500?”

Great question! Remember how one of my hopes was to find a company that would reward me for introducing new affiliates to their program? Well, the company I found does indeed offer an attractive reward for introducing new affiliates. And if you become an affiliate and “brand” this e-book to market the company it will reward you very well too when individuals join the company as a result of you sharing your version of this e-book.

I understand if you still have questions; but sometimes the best way to understand something is to try it out. This will all make a lot more sense to you as you get to understand the affiliate program I have discovered.

There are just 3 Steps to start making money with this e-book:

- 1) Go to the Affiliate Introductory Webpage and get signed up to learn more about their product and how they pay their affiliates.
- 2) Sign up to become an affiliate to help the company market their product.

Don’t worry if you don’t know much about marketing. I knew next to nothing about marketing when I got started but thanks to the training tools provided by the company, I am becoming an expert marketer and you can too!
- 3) Now that you are an affiliate, send me an email requesting that I send you a branded version of the e-book. You will have to give me the website link provided to you by the company and I will make all the links in your copy of this e-book go to your affiliate webpage so you get the credit for the affiliate sign-ups generated and products sold when you give away the ebook. Make sure the subject line of your email says “(your name) wants to Enjoy the Feast” – that’s sort of like your password so your email doesn’t get ignored or left in the spam pile.

Beyond the Crumbs: Your Guide to the Feast of Success
